Literary Contests Offer High Prizes For Entries

Amateur short story and essay writary Awards Foundation of the Catholic Press association and the Taiment Social and Economic Institute.

One thousand dollars in prizes is being offered by the CPA for stories which may deal with any theme so long as, in their general tenor and treatment, they do not impugn basic Catholic concepts. Religious themes may be employed but will not receive privileged consideration.

The Taiment Institute will award a first prize of $1,000 with thirteen additional awards amounting to $2,000 for the best 5000 to 6000 word essay on "An American Program for World Peace in the Present Crisis."

The essay contest is open to all undergraduate students in recognized colleges of the United States.

According to Louis Chairman of the Institute's Essay Committee, the purpose of the award is "to stimulate college students to constructive thought on matters of social and economic importance. College students must realize the necessity of having a point of view, and of making that point of view a vital force as alert members of the public."

The deadline for the essay contest is April 23, 1948. All entries should be mailed to the Taiment Institute Contest, 7 East 15th Street, New York 3, New York.

Closing date for the short story contest is March 31, 1948. All manu-Chairman, Catholic Press Association, Box 389; Davenport, Iowa.

February may have been short-changed in days but each day has received more than its measure of salt, sugar, and seasoning. In fact, there have been so many things on everyone's mind that it's been a real task trying to catch up with all of you for our regular round-table discussion. We really have lots to do and in the true scholastic manner the best thing to do is-

About Face, and Review

It didn't take long for us to get the holly and mistletoe off the scene because book reports and term papers all became due at once; the pace was quickened; we faced exams. But with a gay wintry background the S.L.C. gave one evening of relaxation at the pre-exam dance and for those who had wisely kept up with studies there was the ski meet the Sunday before exam week proper. No one saw much of anyone else during those days but now that I think about it we all lived through it with a minimum of wear and tear. Before we knew it most of us were on the way home for a really wholehearted celebration and a good rest but for the seniors that "between-semesters-breather" meant only more study-for comps. And to make a long story short they've lived through it too, and wonder now what they were worrying Basketball Drops Into Sportlight faces and a few changes before taking spiritual inventory during retreat and now spiritually and mentally accounted for we begin looking for signs of spring in every February snowflake and shivery March blast.

Crowning Glory

The sunny zero-warm weekend following senior comps was but defiant senior team in the second Brooks, Elizabeth Starrs, Marie Spatz, the real topping for the previous weeks because the seniors made game of the evening. The sophomores guards; Pat Ferguson, Mary Curran, their return debut and it was good to have them around again in the more familiar weekend scenes. Playing a very vital part in the festive weekend which immediately preceded retreat was the Junior Winter Formal—regal, dignified, the first formal dance of has announced her lineup to include games, as announced by Mrs. Wilbur Derby, Rita Flannery, Kathleen Hood, the year.
